About our Firm

The firm of David Zeunert & Associates offers comprehensive architectural and consulting services with an outstanding client-centered philosophy.

Architectural services encompass the complete interior and exterior environment — a holistic involvement. Our practice excels in the following architectural disciplines:

- Residential
- Religious
- Health-Care
- Educational
- Corporate
- Cultural

Consulting services evaluate existing conditions and future needs to provide decisive data for the client's building directives through the examination of:

- Programs
- Existing structures
- Environmental regulation
- Governmental codes
- Life safety standards
- Cost parameters

Under the personal leadership of David Zeunert, a skilled team is assembled that is specifically qualified to address the unique needs of each project.

The client having an extensive participatory role is the key factor of a project's success. This achieves the synthesis between the project program and the design solution, and thus a logical extension of the client's vision.

This web site illustrates the value, scope and range of architectural and consulting services we offer. Prospective clients are invited to explore this site and to contact the firm with your needs.
